About

I am a passionate HTML Email Developer / Front End Developer with a strong drive to expand my knowledge. I design emails / websites and then implement them from PSD into HTML and CSS/Sass templates. I'm interested in growing my technical skills in a team based environment and for growth opportunities to try new technologies.

Skills

HTML Emails

Passionate about designing modern and responsive emails. Perform multiple functionality tests so clients properly see what you have to offer.

Websites

Creating logical and easy to use responsive websites that are built with best practices.

Design

Keep the bigger picture in mind, while focusing on small details. I've always had an eye for design. Obsessing over visually pleasing arts is my thing.
